IVANHOE BRIDGE

T. W. WATSON, CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE, REPORTS AS TO BRIDGE PROGRESS.

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce T. W. Watson was appointed as chairman of a committee to inquire as to the progress being made in reference to the proposed Ivanhoe bridge.

Mr. Watson made the following report at an adjourned meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening, November 27:

Gentlemen:

In regard to the proposed bridge over the Los Angeles River at Ivanhoe referred to me at your last meeting, I respectfully submit the following:

I interviewed Councilman John Topham of Los Angeles, who informs me that the proceedings for acquiring the right of way for the north approach to the bridge are now under way and will probably be settled by the 15th of January or soon thereafter.

Mr. Bert Richardson, before his death, signified his willingness to deed the land for this approach. His sudden death, however, made it necessary to acquire title by friendly court proceedings. As soon as title to the north approach is obtained the matter will be taken up with Col. Griffith J. Griffith, who has promised to deed the necessary land for the south approach.

Immediately upon acquiring title to the north and south approaches, proceedings will be instituted for the improvement of Alessandro street, which forms the Los Angeles connection to the bridge. A majority petition for the improvement of this street is now in the hands of the Public Works Committee.

Mr. Topham also states that as chairman of the Public Works Committee of the City Council, he will at the proper time recommend that sufficient funds be appropriated to build the bridge, a portion of which shall be taken from this year's budget, the balance from the budget of next year.

We are assured that the matter of obtaining a bridge at this point is being urged as rapidly as possible. Mr. Topham suggests that this matter be taken up again by our committee either by letter or personal visit with Col. Griffith.

I believe everything is proceeding very satisfactorily and that when the proper time comes the City Council of Los Angeles will make the necessary appropriations for the construction of this much-needed bridge. The Board of Supervisors has already appropriated $5000 toward the expense of constructing this bridge, which amount I understand is to be included in next year's budget.

Most respectfully submitted,
T. W. WATSON.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pettit of South Louise street celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Monday evening by inviting a few of their neighbors and friends to their home. An appetizing four-course dinner was served by Mrs. D. Jones and Mrs. George Lemon, a sister of the bride. At the proper time a huge wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Lemon, and decorated with twenty-five wee china dolls, which caused much fun and merriment, was placed before the bride to cut. At a late hour the company departed after having spent a delightful evening and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Pettit many more happy returns of their anniversary. Those present were Mrs. T. F. Lytle of Great Falls, Montana, who is an aunt of Mrs. Pettit; Mr. and Mrs. Delos Jones and daughters, Esther and Gladys; Mr. and Mrs. David Francy, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemon and son, Wilbur; Mr. and Mrs. Pettit and son, Guy.

DEATH OF MRS. ANNA LOUCKS.

Anna Loucks, departed this life Monday, November 27, at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Loucks had been a resident of Glendale but two weeks, having traveled extensively for her health for some time, and was located at No. 508 South Louise street. Mrs. Loucks was an active member of the Eastern Star at Sheridan, Wyo. She leaves to mourn her a loving husband, John D. Loucks of Sheridan, Wyo.; one son, Homer Loucks of Sheridan, Wyo., and two daughters, Anna May Garbutt of Sheridan, Wyo., and Florence E. Gillings of Billings, Mon. Mr. Loucks founded the town of Sheridan, in which the family make their home, in 1880. The family will arrive in Glendale Wednesday to accompany the body back to Sheridan for interment. NEW POSTAL RATES

NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS TO CONSIDER READJUSTMENT OF LETTER POSTAGE.

The ways are now being greased for the launching of the movement for the readjustment of postal rates in the next session of Congress. This problem was to have been taken up in the last session but had to be deferred on account of the consideration required by railway mail pay. Since this has been disposed of the committees are prepared to take up the matter of placing the various postal rates on a more equitable basis.

A zone system of rates for second-class matter is being prominently urged to take the place of the present flat rate which was adopted nearly forty years ago. The present rate has for some time been regarded as a discrimination against the newspapers in favor of the great national magazines. Like the parcel post the proposed zone rates would be based on the length of the haul.

The postal committees have been besieged by petitions bearing millions of names and several hundred thousand letters from individuals urging a readjustment of postal rates with a view of making possible 1-cent letter postage. A survey of the situation indicates that sufficient changes will be made in the various rates to permit the granting of a 1-cent rate on local delivery letters in the next session of Congress.

Chairman Moon of the House Postal Committee, today said: "I think that the committee will take up this second-class mail matter at the next session and press it to a conclusion at once. While I cannot speak for the committee, this is my desire in the matter. I do not know what kind of a bill we will pass, whether it will have a zone feature attached to it or not. This view has been presented frequently in years past, and sometimes received favor and sometimes not. As to what shape the legislation will be in I am not able to say, but I am sure the committee will give it the best possible shape in the public interest."

Congressman Dill of Washington said: "Such legislation would be specially valuable to local merchants in developing new business. The country is growing more prosperous each day and a cheaper drop letter postage would, in my opinion, aid in making it more prosperous than it has ever been."

Congressman Julius Kahn of California said that: "Since the government derives a very great profit from letters carried and delivered at distant points it is certain the profit realized on local, or the so-called drop letters, must be exorbitant. In view of this condition, which is vouched for by postal experts, I believe that Congress will be justified in taking immediate action."

Congressman McArthur of Oregon takes the stand that "the cost of transporting a letter should have something to do with the postage rate, and there is no valid reason why more than 1 cent should be charged for local deliveries. If my bill becomes a law it will have a great tendency to stimulate business."

Congressman Humphrey of Washington said: "I cannot believe that it is fair or just that all the people should be taxed for the benefit of the magazine publishers of the country. That is exactly what is done under the present system of 2-cent postage. Every person that places a 2-cent stamp on a letter is taxed 1 cent for the benefit of the magazines."

Congressman Randall of California, a member of the Postal Committee and author of the zone rate bill for second-class matter, says that his bill is designed to remove several gross evils or abuses from which the American people suffer in the administration of the postal affairs of the country. "The time has come," said Mr. Randall, "when the postal service must be put on a business basis. Discriminations against the man who buys the 2-cent stamp, and against the publishers of the newspaper in the local field must cease. The postal rate of 1 cent per pound which is granted as a virtual subsidy to the national papers of the magazine class has resulted in fabulous fortunes for private interests, and to which the postal department is given a plain contribution of more than $80,000,000 annually."

Some anxiety is expressed for the safety of the Carranza garrison.

CIVIC WELFARE

MEETING LAST NIGHT INITIAL STEP TOWARD A RECREATION CENTER.

A step fraught with important significance was taken last night when a goodly number of representative citizens met at the Third street school to discuss the lack of a wholesome recreation center in the beautiful city of Glendale. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Parent-Teacher Federation, was nominated chairman of the evening, Mrs. Nanno Woods being nominated secretary. Mrs. Hutchinson opened the meeting with a brief, direct statement of the needs of the young people, more especially the growing and grown-up boy or girl to whom Glendale offered absolutely no way, no place, no means of obtaining wholesome recreation. She pointed out that boys cannot have clubs, for lack of suitable meeting place; young men cannot have gymnasium or athletic opportunities, there is no place for them.

Mr. C. Widney said that the young men of our town were being neglected; the street corner was the only place Glendale afforded for meeting each other. We offered no attraction to keep them amongst us; consequently they go nightly to Los Angeles and seek the dubious pleasures of a large city.

A. W. Tower urged that all efforts to obtain wholesome recreation be directed along civic and municipal lines. Individual efforts, individual subscriptions, would result in an enterprise of mushroom growth.

Whatever was undertaken, let this be a municipal affair.

Mr. John Camphouse said his mind and heart had been occupied with this problem for a long time. He spoke of the wonderful advantages offered by the swimming pool at Brookside, where old and young, children and babies, disported themselves. He suggested that if a bigger scheme were not practicable, Glendale might at least furnish a swimming plunge—and that cheap land for that purpose might be obtained somewhere near the wash.

Rev. Mr. Mottern believed that the Jewel City should not allow itself to be one iota behind other cities. The Riverside plunge cost between $800 and $900.

City Manager Watson urged some plan by means of which a recreation building, including a band stand and comfort stations would be erected near the center of the city. Some day Glendale would have a park in the foothills, where a swimming pool might be built. He believed that both ideas, that of a park and of a recreation center, will surely some day materialize.

Prof. H. Howe, vice-principal of the high school, was asked to state what the high school had to offer in the way of providing recreation opportunities for the public. Regretfully he admitted that it had nothing to offer. He explained that the high school is not a municipal but a county product, embracing many outlying districts such as Tropico, Eagle Rock, etc., and that its funds are little enough with which to provide educational advantages for growing girls and boys. He stated that his dream was that of a permanent civic proposition—buildings, including a fine gymnasium, owned, equipped and managed by the city.

Mr. J. C. Beldin made a plea for concerted action. Many splendid projects had fallen to the ground because of individual blockades. If Glendale has arrived at the moment when the individual is ready to lay aside his prejudices, his conservatism, his "ologies and isms;" if the individual is broad enough to do something for mankind—then, if Glendale is ready and gets together, it can have anything it wants. He asserted that there are hundreds of people in Glendale starving to death socially; young men and women, past high school age, in the heyday of youth, are entitled to opportunities which Glendale does not provide. Let us make a great, grand concerted effort, sink our idiosyncracies, and do something that will count.

Mrs. Nanno Woods said that nothing less than the best was worth working for. She described the wonderful civic recreation building in La Jolla, which hums with activities from 6 o'clock a.m. to 10 o'clock p.m. Lecture rooms, club rooms, gymnasium, pool room, auditorium, Saturday evening dances, games of all kinds, card parties, tennis courts—all under expert supervision. For seven years she declared she and her family had been spending their summer vacation in Los Angeles beaches—never again—last summer at La Jolla had taught them lesson. La Jolla for them every me. If Glendale had such a cen-

AT GLENDALE HIGH

REPORT CARD TIME IS OVER AND THE STUDENTS KNOW THEIR FATE.

With report card time over the school has again settled into its regular groove. Students have either stopped worrying for lack of something to worry about, having passed; or they have reached the climax and stopped anyway, having flunked. This sort is very much in the minority, however at Glendale High. Our students are an exceptionally bright and industrious bunch. Why! they admit it themselves.

Traffic in the corridors of the school has been blocked for several days past by a ticket selling campaign. Of course, an ordinary ticket salesman in the hall would have very little effect on progress, but when at every turn a persuasive diana appealingly implores—or imploringly appeals— to your sense of charity, your good judgment and your weakness for the charms of the fair sex all at one time, the result is that a ticket is sold. Yes, several tickets have been sold recently, in fact, some bashful chaps had five or six more than they had any use for.

The purpose of these tickets was for admission to the Wirt lecture, held this afternoon in the school auditorium. Students not attending the lecture were allowed to remain in the study hall. The study hall was a lonesome place.

"Bill" Balthis, who has been enjoying the luxury of the sick room for some time, is recovering, and will have to go to school again before long. It may be several days before he is back, though, for "Bill" is said to stand in pretty well with the doctor.

Miss Eggert, Miss Golthwaite, Miss Terry and Miss Grinnell enjoyed a hike Sunday to Griffith Park with its complement of fresh air and sunshine. After a week's work at report cards such a trip should have a bracing effect both mentally and physically.

Ed Seay, prominent athlete and popular senior class president, reports that he had as a guest Sunday the world-famous Glendale High School baseball pitcher, Howard Ehmke, at the mention of whose name every loyal Glendalian's blood goes tingling with pride. Ed says that despite Howard's unprecedented climb in the world of baseball fame he is still the same modest lad that we of Glendale High were familiar.

Howard's friends will find him at Montgomery's jewelry store, where he is employed for the winter in order to enjoy for a short time the surroundings that only Southern California have to offer.

COMMITTEE LUNCHEON

One of the most delightful social affairs which have been held in connection with the coming bazaar of the Tuesday Afternoon Club occurred Monday afternoon, when Mrs. Jesse Joseph of No. 1431 West First street, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Conrad, entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon the members of the committee for the second-hand and white elephant booth of the bazaar. Covers were laid for seven and all members were present except Mrs. Walter Stamps. In keeping with the season the table was beautiful with Thanksgivng decorations. Most realistic diminutive turkeys occupied the center of the table, together with a ravishing little Kewpie armed with a silver ax. Turkey gobblers formed the place cards. Before and after the delicious four-course luncheon the ladies were busy cutting out white elephants with which to decorate their booth and sorting and marking the goods which have already been collected. Mr. Joseph is assisting the ladies by collecting everything offered and the committee is exceedingly grateful to him.

The stock of goods already on hand is quite large and includes books, phonograph records, vases, plates, a banquet lamp, framed pictures, table favors, couch covers, toys and games for children, bric-a-brac, baskets, table mats, kitchen utensils, an oil stove, a gas stove, a wood or coal stove, shoes and a few pieces of clothing.

Anyone having articles to donate to this department of the bazaar will please phone any member of the committee and they will be most gratefully received and collected.

The committee are Mrs. C. E. Harlan, 531-J; Mrs. Jesse Joseph, 1314; Mrs. S. C. Packer, 947-W; Mrs. R. L. Holland, Home 1401; Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, 333-M; Mrs. E. H. Willisford, 918-W, and Mrs. Walter Stamps, 169-J.

Mrs. W. H. Easton is very sick at her home, No. 552 Broadway. Her physicians fear that the case will develop into pnuemonia.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1916.

Let Us Give Thanks

A PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT

November 17, President Wilson formally by proclamation designated Thurs., November 30, as Thanksgiving Day. His proclamation follows:

It has long been the custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us and the nation.

The year that has elapsed since we last observed our day of thanksgiving has been rich in blessings to us as a people, but the whole face of the world has been darkened by war. In the midst of our peace and happiness our thoughts dwell with painful disquiet upon the struggles and sufferings of the nations at war and of the peoples upon whom war has brought disaster without choice or possibility of escape on their part. We cannot think of our own happiness without thinking of their pitiful distress.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do appoint Thursday, the 30th of November, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer and urge and advise the people to resort to their several places of worship on that day to render thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of peace and unbroken prosperity which He has bestowed upon our beloved country in such unstinted measure.

And I also urge and suggest our duty, in this, our day of peace and abundance, to think in deep sympathy of the stricken peoples of the world upon whom the curse and terror of war have so pitilessly fallen and to contribute out of our abundant means to the relief of their sufferings.

Our people could in no better way show their real attitude toward the present struggle of the nations than by contributing out of their abundance to the relief of the suffering which war has brought in its train.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 17th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1916, and of the independence of the United States the 141st.

By the President. WOODROW WILSON.

ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State.

KEEP PROFITS IN LOCAL COMMUNITY

The man who is sufficiently strong intellectually to be able to confine his attention specially to his own business affairs and not meddle with the affairs of others, is only measuring up to the requirements of a good citizen. The absence of envy and jealousy on the part of a man makes such an individual that much more of a man. The spirit of "build up" in men is what makes the world move. The "tear down" spirit will never accomplish anything.

Jump into the activities of a busy world with a determination to succeed, but if you cannot succeed do not attempt to tear others down. Men are partners in fighting life's battles, and in war the honorable soldier who cannot conquer the enemy will not turn on his comrade and attempt to slay him. Men who are engaged in business are commercial soldiers, they have interests identical, and why should they not co-operate instead of attempting to tear one another down? If you cannot furnish an article of merchandise to a customer, take a pleasure in recommending that the purchase may be made from a brother merchant who will get a benefit from the profit.

The profit the neighbor merchant makes on the sale you have turned his way will do the local community more good than the profit that goes to places distant. The profit made by a local merchant is in turn paid out to another local dealer, and that local dealer may spend the "profit" that has been put into circulation, with merchant number one who recommended the customer to buy from a local competitor.

It is indeed interesting to recall how many debts one dollar will pay when kept circulating locally. The butcher receives a dollar for merchandise from a ranchman. The butcher settles a dollar account he owes the hardware man. The hardware man pays a dollar account to the baker and the baker buys eggs from the ranchman. The profit on a sale of merchandise is the community builder. The cost price of the merchandise goes to the wholesaler or manufacturer. and is not a local community builder unless the merchandise is manufactured within the local community.

If a community is to be prosperous how necessary it is then that merchants should provide for a reasonable profit when retailing merchandise.

The merchant who is not able to bring legitimate deals his way should not be jealous if these deals are handled by his competitor. Every man in business should be ready to use his influence to keep in his own city the profits on the sale of merchandise.

Political campaigns, though a very necessary feature of a Republican form of government hurt business, and political propositions mean new laws and higher taxes. Industries and business in general are hurt, as a rule, by new and untried legislative experiments, more than they are helped. New ideas forced upon the people by their lawmakers are sometimes expensive luxuries. There are perhaps a very few bills that actually need to be passed at the coming session of the Legislature while hundreds might be repealed to good purpose.

MOTHERS' STUDY CIRCLE.

The Mothers' Study Reading Circle met last Thursday as usual in the library of the Pacific avenue school with Mrs. Joseph Snell as reader.

Those present, beside the reader, were Mrs. Railsback, Mrs. Roach, Mrs. R. C. Puffer, Mrs. Frank Ayers, Mrs. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Minnette Sherman.

There will be no meeting the coming Thursday on account of Thanksgiving day but will be held the Thursday following and the reading will continue to be from "The Training of the Boy," by McKeever.

Visitors are welcome at any time. Much can be gained from the reading of any of these chapters with the discussions that follow, although the previous chapters have been missed.

Chairman of Education.

ALUMNI MEETING.

Rev. A. B. Smart and Mrs. Smart attended a reception tendered Monday afternoon to President and Mrs. Shanklin of the Wesleyan University of Middletown, Ct., of which Mr. Smart is a graduate. The reception was held in the palatial home of Senator and Mrs. Cole of Hollywood, where Mr. and Mrs. Shanklin are guests. Senator Cole is an alumnus of Wesleyan of 1847. Many of the graduates of the old college were present to greet the president and enjoyed a fine time, given by Mr. and Mrs. Cole. Mrs. Smart also met several from her alma mater, Wilbraham Seminary of Massachussetts.

TURKEY NIGHT AT ELKS' CLUB.

Last night was annual turkey night at the Elks' Club and the members of that order had their usual good time. The Glendale band assisted in the festivities of the evening and helped to make things lively. Among those present were a hundred and forty turkeys and one goose. A big delegation (Elks, not turkeys,) came down from Fillmore and every one of the twenty-five Fillmore fellows were fortunate enough to win a turkey. Needless to say the turks were overwhelmed by superior numbers and there was a wholesale slaughter, or there will be before now and Thursday. This affair was equally as successful as in former years.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, the principal feature of which was a birthday cake with candles in honor of Miss Nellie Genevieve's birthday anniversary. Games completed the evening's enjoyment.

FATHERS' NIGHT.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Cerritos avenue school, Tropico, had a very pleasant time on Monday evening, when they entertained fifty or more men friends of the school. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. A. H. Gaarder.

Mrs. Hartley Shaw, the program committee chairman, assisted in arranging the program numbers, while Miss Ruth Mitchell, the music instructor, gave a good demonstration of the quality of school work. A trio, composed of three girls on the cello, violin and piano, gave three numbers. Devina Wood, a 5-year-old child in costume, danced the Highland fling.

Eighteen girls from Class B, Third grade, gave a group of songs, and boys from Class A, Fourth grade, also gave a group of songs. The boys' glee club, composed of twenty-seven of the older boys, gave two numbers, and the girls' glee club, of twenty-eight girls, gave two numbers.

Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, was the speaker of the evening. He gave a definition of Fathers' Night by saying "it was the night father stayed home with the children." His subject was "Taxes and School Bonds," and he stated that there was no increase in the wages of the laborer but that all else had gone up. He said we must be economical but not at the expense of any child. His talk was greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

The hospitality chairman, Mrs. Richard Todd, made all feel welcome with good cheer and refreshments. The meeting was an unusual one, from the point of masculine attendance.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Miss Melba Weiler was very much surprised Saturday evening when, on starting for the theater with friends, she was taken to Eagle Rock Park where twenty more of her friends were gathered about a lovely bon-fire. The surprise was in honor of Miss Weiler's birthday, which occurred a few days later. The grand old trees protected the party from the cool evening breezes and all had a jolly time around the fire. Marion Addison was the leading spirit of the party. All sang America and readings were given by Miss Emma Lee Weiler, Mr. Gower, Miss Leone Brice and Miss Margaret Lusby. There were games of various kinds and all had a very happy time. Refreshments were served and there were the usual good things even to the ice cream and birthday cake. Those who helped Miss Weiler celebrate her birthday so pleasantly were Marion Addison, Leone Brice, Lena Mae Brice, Frieda Lindley, Eva Thede, Margaret Lusby, Hattie Beckman, Storrs Beckman, Paul Richardson, Bill Gower, Howard McGillis, George Marsh, Leone McLonde, Harold Latter, John Richardson, Elwood Ingledue. The young people were chaperoned by Miss Emma Lee Weiler, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Mr. H. E. Lindley and Mr. A. J. Shepard.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning the minister, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, commenced a series of sermons on the life of the prophet Elijah, stating, however, that he reserved the privilege of stepping aside from time to time to speak on other topics as circumstances seemed to warrant. He gave a brief sketch of the troubles of the people of Israel, how one bad king had followed another until Ahab sat upon the throne and was himself ruled by Jezabel so that the altars had been thrown down and all but 7000 of a great nation had gone after false gods. The speaker took occasion to denounce "unholy marriages with unbelievers." It is not a time for cowardice in religion, it is something worth living and dying for regardless of public opinion, and whether one's stand is popular or other wise. Elijah was one of the three great strong characters of the Old Testament, the others being Abraham and Moses. It is noted in the text that "He went out and did according to the word of the Lord." Elijah was probably a man of great physical strength, but his great source of power was in his reliance upon the word of God. He went to Ahab with the message that the Lord had given him and told that wicked ruler that the people of Israel should be punished for their sins by the withholding of rain and dew for the space of three years and six months. Elijah suggests three things emphatically: the source of his strength, "As the Lord liveth. "Are you giving your testimony? "Before whom I stand." Are you living in the presence of God? He went out and did in the name of the Lord, he found his strength in God. "As thy need so shall thy strength be."

DR. FOX TO LECTURE.

The brotherhood of the Congregational Church held a most active and interesting meeting last evening.

Arrangements were made to have Dr. D. F. Fox, the brilliant orator and well known preacher, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, give his famous lecture "How I Made a Fortune" Monday evening, December 18. The lecture will be given at the church.

Mr. C. M. Van Dyke read an humorous selection and Mr. Charles Bullard read an interesting paper on "The Relation of the Church to the Community."

CIVIC WELFARE.

ter where young and old, rich and poor, could find opportunities for improvement, entertainment, recreation and the social amenities of life, its population would be doubled in five years. It would prove the greatest advertisement, the greatest real estate boom, that any city could have.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett spoke of the Pomona swimming pool, and pledged her support and indorsement of a civic recreation center.

Dr. Jessie Russell made an eloquent plea for broadness of view. We were dealing with needs of red-blooded boys and men. It is the environment makes the recreation right or wrong. In times past, worthy Glendale women had thrown up their hands in horror at the mere suggestion of allowing a boy to play cards or pool. There is no harm in rolling ivory balls over a table, no harm carrying numbers in one's head playing cards—it is the environment that is harmful. Let us have a civic recreation center, under an expert supervisor or director, provide the youth of Glendale with wholesome environments and we shall make worthy men out of the boys whom we now allow to drift into city dangers.

Mr. W. Tower spoke of visiting an institution for feeble-minded boys and girls, where a most complete, up-to-date gymnasium and swimming plunge had been erected. Strange that normal children may not have such things. The State provides these necessities for the feeble-minded, but not for the normal. Thus the normal children are deprived of what the feeble-minded enjoy. He read a most interesting letter, a reply to his inquiries, from the Mayor of Pomona, as to the cost and maintenance of the Pomona swimming pool.

Mr. Richardson White believed that a civic center should include a plunge which, covered over, and slightly heated, would be available twelve months of the year instead of four months of summer weather. He stated that all plans would be futile unless an expert resident director were maintained. That the supervision makes or mars.

Dr. H. R. Harrower said that this was a business proposition, pure and simple. It was a matter of dollars and cents, not of religion or sentiment. A civic recreation center would make money for Glendale. It would be an asset to the community, therefore a business getter. He decried a peanut policy, recommended a broadness of vision, a putting aside of narrowness; and declared that Glendale should be not only a good place to live in, but a better place than any other place. He will work heart and soul for a civic recreation center.

J. S. Thompson, chairman of the Board of Trustees, gave a graphic description of civic center clubhouses erected and maintained by the Santa Fe Railway for the benefit of its employees and the public generally. If these recreation centers are good things for the railway they would be equally good for Glendale. He believes in a civic recreation center municipally owned and managed, built from the ground up and open seven days in the week. He emphatically declared that after an educational campaign Glendale residents should be asked to vote bonds; $75,000 would be none too much for such an enterprise.

Mr. M. B. Hartmann also made an eloquent plea for a community recreation center as did also Mr. L. E. Brockman. Mr. Arthur Lindley believed that no better thing for the advancement for social service could be maintained than a civic recreation center.

A resolution was then enthusiastically and unanimously passed asking the chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, to nominate a committee for the planning of a campaign of education, with the aim of obtaining a civic recreation center for Glendale. The nomination of this committee will be made by Mrs. Hutchinson within a few days.
